

CONTENTS

SECTION 1 The Portfolio Management Model

- CHAPTER 1 The End of the One Best System . . . . . 3
- CHAPTER 2 The Design of Educational Systems. . . . . 19
- CHAPTER 3 System Transformation in Three Cities . . . . . 33
with Danica Robinson Brown and Laura Steen Mulfinger

SECTION 2 Five Mechanisms for Change

- CHAPTER 4 Planning and Oversight: Building System Accountability . . . . . 65
with A. Chris Torres and Sarah M. Woodward
- CHAPTER 5 School Choice: Expanded Options, Increased Competition . . . . . 93
with Tasminda K. Dhaliwal and Taylor N. Allbright
- CHAPTER 6 Autonomy: Flexibility in Response to Student Needs . . . . 121
with Eupha Jeanne Daramola and Laura Steen Mulfinger
- CHAPTER 7 Human Capital Management: A Pipeline of Diverse, Qualified Educators . . . . . 149
with A. Chris Torres
- CHAPTER 8 School Supports: Administration, Instruction, Compliance . . . . . 173
with Jane Arnold Lincove

SECTION 3 Changing Systems, Common Struggles

CHAPTER 9 Does PMM Alignment Translate to Higher School Quality? . . . . . 209
with Tasminda K. Dhaliwal

CHAPTER 10 Tensions, Trade-Offs, and Limitations in the Portfolio Management Model . . . . . 225

ADDITIONAL MATERIALS

APPENDIX A Study Data and Methods . . . . . 253

APPENDIX B Intermediate Outcomes Within and Across Systems. . . . . 257

Notes . . . . . 259

Acknowledgments . . . . . 279

About the Authors . . . . . 281

About the Contributing Authors . . . . . 285

Index . . . . . 289